we have put in every bottle.”*

APPELLATION: Paso Robles, California

COMPOSITION: 42% Viognier, 30%
Roussanne & 28% Grenache Blanc

TASTING NOTES:

Our 2014 Three Sisters White is a delightful wine, ripe with complexity and charm. The warm growing season, free of autumn precipitation afforded us patience, allowing for acidity and flavor development to achieve harmony. The dominant Viognier component makes its presence known throughout, especially on the nose. While swirling in the glass you can expect notes of lemon grass, lychee, orange peel and honeydew melon. The mid-palate playfully contrasts the creamy richness of the Roussanne versus the bracing acidity of the Grenache Blanc. The interaction between the two makes this wine versatile—equally at ease with or without food. Culminating the experience is an impeccable finish that fades with a leisurely grace.
